NEWPORT MEDIA

The Newport Media collection was introduced to meet the newest technology for home entertainment needs, yet still be functional and stylish in today's home. Designed to accommodate several different size widescreen televisions, audio and video equipment, Newport Media can have an open feel with glass doors available, or you can enclose the technology units. Solid drawer fronts with dovetailed drawers using full extension side mounted ball bearing metal glides add great value to this simple, quality design.
